Fundraising Culture Change 2026

A dynamic programme supporting organisations to grow, change and secure their future

The Fundraising Culture Change programme is a tailored consultancy package led by Michelle Wright, CEO of Cause4 and Programme Director of Arts Fundraising & Philanthropy; Annie Jarvis, Director of Strategy and Programmes at Cause4 and Head of Arts Fundraising & Philanthropy and the senior team at Cause4.

Designed for arts, culture and heritage organisations experiencing substantial transition or change, the programme supports leaders and inspires teams to work collaboratively to increase fundraising and income generation.

Arts Fundraising & Philanthropy is now recruiting for a new cohort of organisations to join over 30 others that have benefitted from the programme over the last six years including Exeter Northcott, Eureka! The National Children's Museum, Babylon Arts, Munnings Art Museum, Sporting Heritage CIC, Creative Youth and Chisenhale Gallery.

What will my organisation gain?

The cultural sector is currently operating in a challenging and complex environment. As we grapple with global challenges, the cost of living crisis and localised issues, it's easy to become inward-facing. Right now, it is more important than ever that arts organisations have the fundraising strategies and internal cultures required to survive and be resilient.

Fundraising Culture Change is a dedicated programme that supports organisations to grow, change, and secure their future! Supporting Leadership teams, Board members, staff and volunteers, the programme will build new ways of working through:

- Building or refreshing your fundraising strategies and plans
- Inspiring you to seek out new fundraising opportunities and partnerships with confidence
- Encouraging you to explore new business models and approaches to income generation
- Supporting your team to feel ownership of fundraising, developing their skills and building a positive culture for fundraising
- Fostering innovation and growth

The Fundraising Culture Change programme is bespoke to each individual organisation, working collaboratively with you to support whatever is most pressing for your organisation. Previous participants have developed business plans, fundraising strategies, major donor implementation or corporate fundraising strategies.

“As a small organisation we were thrilled to be given a place on the Culture Change programme in 2022. Working with the team at Cause4 to develop a fundraising strategy has given us the insight and confidence to embrace pro-active and manageable fundraising for the first time.”

Jenny Hand, Museum Director, Munnings Art Museum
